Make an Impact to Make a Difference Today
The 2024 Jewish Welfare Fund Campaign

Our Federation is part of a national organization that provides support in virtually every type of Jewish movement and crisis. We focus on security, stability, connection, tradition and education. In Canton, our Federation is part of JFNA’s LiveSecure program, an unprecedented $54 million security campaign and initiative to ensure the security and resiliency of our communities. With LiveSecure grant funding, our Federation is able to provide the training, tools, and resources needed to protect our community members as they participate in activities and worship at Beit Ha’am. In 2023, we collaborated with the Akron Jewish Community Board to hire a part-time Security Director for both campuses. Gary Rhimes is working closely with leadership to ensure we have the highest level of security possible, as we continue to work closely with both the Canton City Police Department and the FBI. You’ll have an opportunity to meet Gary at our Annual Meeting on September 7.

Security is a high priority for Federation, but so is education. As anti-Semitism is on the rise, we presented A Day of Anti-Hate in collaboration with Temple Israel, the ADL and the Maltz Museum. We welcomed three local high school classes for a morning of education with Julie Zorn and the education staff from ADL and Maltz. It was an overwhelming success and we plan on continuing the program in 2024.

Federation has re-established its connection with Israel through Partnership2Gether and looks forward to presenting in-person programs with Israeli speakers and performers. We enjoyed a community celebration of Yom Ha’atzmaut with Akron’s shaliach, musician Rami Feinstein and Israeli food.

Jewish Family Services services and activities continues to be a lifeline for our seniors and the members of our community. Our Food Bank has been used more than ever and we are conscious of the impact that rising food prices have on those with tight incomes. The staff has been responding to our representative payeeship clients and Medicare/Medicaid continues to be filed. Staff have assisted community members with filling out applications for VA benefits and Medicare Part D forms. Our new Adult Program Coordinator, Debbie Guilliams, has developed new activities and programs for our community members.

The J-Shuttle operates four days a week for those needing transportation to appointments.

Temple Israel and Shaaray Torah Shabbat religious services have resumed and Chadash returned to Beit Ha’am on Sundays for in-person learning and continue the on-line learning for Hebrew classes in the fall.

It’s taken committed mission-driven volunteers, a strong professional staff and the right balance of financial resources for Federation to continue to live.

Annual Meeting at Beit Ha’am
Thursday, September 7, 7:00 p.m.

Guest Speaker
Kelly Fishman, Regional Director for the Anti-Defamation League Cleveland Office
Life in Canton is Rich and Fulfilling

Perhaps you’ve heard that “the Gelbs are moving to Evanston.” It is true. Our experience during Covid and celebration of three more birthdays prompted our decision to be closer to our children and grandchildren.

Our decision was far from easy. When we moved to Canton in 1971 we knew only one family, that of Ron’s professional partner. What we learned here was that you can create family, structure and meaning without boundaries. Although we had no “history” in Canton we found when you step forward and seize opportunities life in Canton is rich and fulfilling. Our life is filled with treasured friends who have become our family.

Canton has been a terrific place to raise children. Our kids received a good public school education and a good Jewish education. They went on to succeed at higher education and in careers.

Canton afforded us leadership opportunities at the JCC, Federation and Temple Israel. We had opportunities to learn from the generation that preceded us and to pass along those skills to the generation that followed us.

The Canton Jewish demographic changes are a fact. What has not changed are the many opportunities to play a role in shaping life in your community. We urge you to take a short term or long term volunteer position. Call a congregation or the Federation and find out how you can be a part of leadership. It may sound trite but you will get out more than you put in.

The Jewish community of Stark County mourns the loss of

Stanley Greenwald

A righteous man

May his memory be a blessing.

Canton Jewish Community Federation President
1985-1986
The final column for any president is always dreaded. Thank you to those that supported me; let me beat my chest about what we have done during my term in office; good luck to the sucker who succeeds me; etc. Luckily, Bonnie Manello – once again – saved me.

Last month, Bonnie announced her intention to retire later this year. Frankly, the most shocking news from Bonnie’s announcement is how well she kept it a secret. Two weeks after she told the leadership, none of the local yentas had dispersed the news. Vice president John Strauss is leading a committee to work on the details of the position and assessing candidates. Your board of trustees will be hearing from the committee and making any final decisions, probably in the fall.

Bonnie has done a great job leading our transition to a single building community model. She spent several decades running the Jewish Center and everything that went with it – repairs to the pool; staffing the building; managing events; and supervising other leaders. When it was time to downsize to Beit Ha'am, she as a natural choice to take over the reins at the Federation and bring her staff and building management skills to this organization.

One of the most important functions of an executive director is to know “where the bodies are buried.” Bonnie has kept connected with all members of our community – active and inactive; young and old; donors and volunteers. If there was a financial need for a special project, Bonnie knew which community member to call for a “special ask.” She always kept in mind that Federation volunteer opportunities needed to be spread amongst members of all congregations. She has kept us all abreast of the changes going on at other Ohio Jewish communities or at national and international organizations. If there was a question as to why we had a certain procedure, Bonnie knew why we had made the decision decades ago.

I have always enjoyed talking to Bonnie about our families’ shared roots, whether it was New York or Detroit. I am happy that she and Steven will be able to do what they want, when they want, without worry about work obligations. I know that she will continue to be a great resource and help us continue to strive to be the best community organization we can be.

Our next executive director will undoubtedly have different responsibilities. He or she will succeed Bonnie, but never replace her. Thank you, Bonnie, for all your hard work.
Old Man Moses

During this month of August we are reading parashiyot from the fifth book of the Torah. It is known to the general population by its Septuagint, Greek name, Deuteronomy and to those who read the Hebrew by its Hebrew name, D’varim. We can learn from each of these names. Scholars of Hebrew Bible would suggest that Deuteronomy, or the Second Law, explains a recasting of Hebrew Theology and religion which creates a more coherent system for a people entering (or already arrived) in the Promised Land. D’varim, from the first words of the book, (Eilu ha’d’varim asher diber Moshe… “These are the words which Moses spoke…” suggest not so much a structure as a cajoling, entreaty, strident and loving final speech to the Jewish people before he ascends the mountain for the last time.

There are so many memorable verses from this fifth book. Verses like, “Man does not live by bread alone, but by all that proceeds from the mouth of God” and “See, I set before you this day life and death, the blessing and the curse, therefore, Choose life!” These and more are part of Moses’ tzva’ah, his ethical will. His memories of the past, both the troubling backsliding of the people and the heights of holiness are powerful and stunning. There is a kind of urgency as he contemplates the brief time he has left on this earth, the frustration of not being able, himself, to cross into the promised land, and the understanding that in order for Israel to be the Eternal People God had promised, certain lessons needed to be burned, as it were, into their minds and souls. While the first books of Torah are filled with a host of miracles, none actually occur in Deuteronomy. Moses recalls those of the previous books, but leaves us not with some flash of divine fire or magical event. Rather, he leaves us with D’varim; Words, impassioned words and urgent warnings about what we should and should not do. Here, he is quintessentially Moshe Rabbeinu, Moses our teacher.

INHERITANCE OF LEGACY?

While we have inherited Torah because we accept it, teach it and strive to live it, it is not Moses’ inheritance to us. If we were to sit at the reading of his last will and testament, we would have divided amongst us perhaps his staff, sandals which never wore out in the wilderness, a tattered robe worn for decades, but surely not much more. A cherished inheritance to be sure, but not more precious than his words.

His words are his legacy. His legacy is a vision of Divine proportion filled with aspiration worthy of a people that stood at Sinai. Moses could not only remember who the Children of Israel were “back in the day,” but also the potential they possessed at that moment on the cusp of entering the land and filled with aspiration and hope for what this Holy People could be.

Soon we will be thinking about a new year. Learning from Moses and our Torah, we should strive to be intentional not only about the inheritance we leave to those who remain after us, but the legacy of wisdom, encouragement, and the example of holiness we bequeath.

Make an Impact to Make a Difference Today is the theme we chose for the 2024 campaign. It reflects our vision for the Canton Jewish Community, today and everyday moving forward. As Campaign chairs, the goal is to help members understand they all have a vested interest in making a financial commitment that will allow Federation to continue to educate their members, serve those in need through Jewish Family Services, support Hillel, Birthright, Ohio Jewish Communities, Chadash, Israel, and of course to maintain our beautiful home, Beit Ha’am.

Although our population has decreased, our needs remain the same and that requires each of us to be more generous with our financial support. When you receive your campaign appeal letter the week of September 11 please join us and our families in giving a generous increase. Make an Impact to Make a Difference Today. We look forward to seeing you safely at Beit Ha’am on September 7 for our Annual Meeting and Campaign Kickoff and throughout the year.

The Mitzvah of Doing a Mitzvah

On Sunday, August 20, 2023, Temple Israel is coming together once again for a special Mitzvah Day. Our Torah commands us to practice tikkun olam or repairing the world, and a special “mitzvah day” is designed to do just that.

Throughout a Chadash school year, we look for opportunities for our students to perform mitzvot. There are greeting cards for the residents of local nursing homes at Rosh Hashanah time. There have been canned foods and other goods to those in need at Thanksgiving time. There was even a pet food drive once as a “b’nei mitzvah project” when the Jewish lifecycles class was learning about bar and bat mitzvahs. Of course, there is always a tzedakah collection going each year, as well. This past school year, the oldest Chadash classroom voted to donate the tzedakah collection to Stark Mental Health and Addiction Recovery (Stark MHAR), as they decided the state of mental health in Stark County needed some attention and assistance.

These opportunities are how our Chadash students learn firsthand that even though they are young people, they too, can make a difference in the world. They too, can follow the mitzvah of tikkun olam and help to make the world a better place.

It our job as adults to both role model how to follow the mitzot of our Torah, but it is also our job to create opportunities for our children to take part in in order for them to achieve their own part, as well.

We are grateful to Temple Israel for creating these opportunities for the community and especially always inviting us to ask the Chadash students to participate. We hope to see our Chadash families joining Temple on August 20th. Not only will they be able to participate in mitzvot, but they will be able to participate alongside a community of all ages coming together to simply make a difference.

PEOPLE IN THE NEWS

Marty Shankle, son of Ellen and Bill Shankle was listed in the Cleveland Jewish News released their 2023 Class of Honorees “12 Under 36: Members of the Tribe.” Marty is the Vice President, National Business Development, Infinity Power Partners and is recognized as part of the people who are reshaping the world, embodying the values and vision of Jewish leadership, and leaving an indelible mark on Northeast Ohio.

Sam Ron, formerly of Canton, is featured in the upcoming book “Jews in the Garden by A Holocaust Survivor, the Fate of His Family, and the Secret History of Poland in World War II” by Judy Rakowsky. A former investigative journalist, Rakowsky who is Sam’s cousin, chronicles their search a cousin, Hena Rozenka, the sole survivor of her family’s massacre, as well as to learn the truth about what happened to their family during WWII Poland. “Jews in the Garden” is a globe-trotting detective story with her cousin, Sam, as the unlikeliest of sleuthing duos, who knock on doors, petition court documents, seek clandestine meetings and ultimately discover what happened to the “Jews in the garden, next door.” The book is also a timely investigation of Poland’s attempt to rewrite history. Towards the war’s end, bands of Polish underground partisans searched for and murdered Polish Jews in hiding, many of whom the partisans knew as neighbors.

Celebrating Israel in Canton, and Celebrating Partnership in Israel

A few months ago, Partnership2Gether organized a community event for a celebration of Yom Ha’atzmaut. We gathered to celebrate the 75th anniversary of Israel’s founding as a nation and did so in the spirit of the Partnership program, experiencing Israel beyond what we read in headlines to connect on a person-to-person basis with the country’s rich culture and heritage.

This was our first large-scale Partnership event since our Federation rejoined the program, and it was wonderful to kick it off in such a special way and on such an important holiday.

Our religious school children made three different types of salt, including Dead Sea salt, dried flower petals, glycerine and different scents to create bath salts for use at home. This activity was a hit—my daughter brought home three bags of sea and eagerly explained the significance of the activity. Everyone had an Israeli lunch with birthday cake for dessert, and the adults enjoyed a concert with Israeli singer-songwriter Rami Feinstein, who performed in both Hebrew and English. Rami brought a special touch to the event, sharing vignettes from his life in both Israel and the U.S., and created that personal connection that is the goal of the Partnership program.

It was wonderful to be together to celebrate Israel, and to know that this event was the start of more to come for Partnership.

Plans continue to come together for the 25th anniversary celebration of the Partnership2Gether Western Galilee this November. Members of the U.S. Central Area Consortium, of which Canton is a part, along with Budapest, Hungary, will join our partners in Israel from Nov. 6 to Nov. 11.

Plans include a medical seminar at Galilee Medical Center; activities such as visits to Partnership beneficiary organizations; experiences that highlight the arts, multiculturalism, history and pride; an anniversary gala; city tours and much more.

There will also be a HealthTech and Healthcare Innovation seminar from Nov. 5 to Nov. 8 for physicians, healthcare professionals and administrators.

Virtual Partnership-wide programming continues in a few weeks with another Partnership book discussion. Save the date for Sunday, Sept. 10 at 1 p.m. for a discussion about “Who By Fire: Leonard Cohen in the Sinai,” by Matti Friedman. The book, which was published in 2022, explores the weeks during the 1973 Yom Kippur War that poet songwriter Leonard Cohen spent performing on the front lines in Israel. Those weeks were life-altering for him, according to the Amazon description, and were also for the soldiers who heard him perform.

Although I have not yet been able to participate in these online events, I imagine the conversation is quite lively, given that participants from Israel, Budapest and the U.S. are all invited to participate.

For more information and to RSVP to any of these events, visit the Partnership website at https://www.westerngalilee.org.il.
